Is this pdf version too cluttered and too long? There are alternatives:

- 1) Use your PDF viewer's "bookmarks" (Adobe) or "Table of Contents" (Preview) function to jump to categories of interest to you. All items appear under several categories.
- 2) You may want to view the Web Version. This allows you to select tick boxes to only see items in the categories the meet your interests. This is also the best version for users with a slow internet connection.
- 3) Try using the My SafetyLit tool. Register to log in and automatically find articles on the topics you want, week after week, after you set your preferences the first time. Soon the options and limits will allow you to fine-tune the weekly update to closely match your needs.
- 4) Consider subscribing to one or more of the SafetyLit RSS feeds. An added benefit to this is that you can read the update in near real-time (as items are entered into the database) or as infrequently as once a month without missing anything.

The SafetyLit Foundation has been designated a not-for-profit 501(c)(3) public charity by the US IRS.

Accomplishments

If the current level of giving continues, the electronic infrastructure costs will be sustained indefinitely. (SafetyLit does not have sufficient resources for salaries but can continue with current volunteer effort.) Indeed, we have been able to provide a number of enhancements to both the public and administrative side of the SafetyLit website and database:

► Search Term Disambiguation: A search on terms such as football will offer a screen to allow for fine-tuning the query to specific sports that are known by that name. We all know that many authors in the USA when writing about the sport of American Football shorten that to simply “football” and in much of the world “football” means Association football aka soccer. Without this utility the information-seeking task would be more troublesome by the intrusive distraction of football sports that are not of interest (games with different rules, equipment, and risks of injury). Please see the example disambiguation page for football at: <http://www.safetylit.org/disambiguation-example.html>

► Slowly, but surely, we are working to disambiguate author names. While this is not essential for everyone, it is for those of you who are preparing a manuscript using APA or Chicago style. For example, the Chicago Manual of Style states: “Authors’ names are normally given as they appear on the title pages of their books or above their articles. Certain adjustments, however, should be made to assist correct identification. First names may be given in full in place of initials. If an author uses his or her given name in one cited book and initials in another (e.g., “Mary L. Jones” versus “M. L. Jones” versus “Mary Jones” versus “Mary Lois Jones” versus “M. Jones”), the same form, preferably the fuller one, should be used in all references to that author. To assist alphabetization, middle initials or names should be given wherever known.” [¶14.72] (emphasis added)

There are similar requirements with other citation styles. Without some assistance, it can be all but impossible to follow this requirement.

How is one to know if the M.L. Jones is Mary L. Jones, Michael Lewis Jones, or someone else? For some university professors, this blind attention to following the details of a style guide can make the difference between a passing or a failing grade. For manuscript submission this can be the difference between acceptance and rejection as attention to citation formatting may be used as a gauge of an author’s attention to scholarly detail.

SafetyLit provides (when we can):

Full author names even when the source document only provides initials – we consult multiple sources to verify authorship whenever names are incomplete or ambiguous. We have a system that scans author names in the SafetyLit database for possible duplicates (similar last name – with or without name particles [de, von, van]; coauthors, subject area, publication date, etc.) to flag names for further investigation.

YOU can help SafetyLit to improve author name information by providing to us your full name for all articles that only have you listed with initials. SafetyLit draws from more than 14,000 journals and about 35 distinct professional disciplines. Your name may be unique among authors in your discipline but chances are that there are authors in other fields who have the same name if it is truncated to your initials. Between one-fourth and two-thirds of SafetyLit searches are by author names. Help searchers find all your publications and avoid other authors works being confused with yours.

See next page for the request.

A Request

We really must improve the way that SafetyLit includes and indexes books and book chapters.

Over the years, I have received many requests and complaints about the way SafetyLit provides information about books, book chapters, and lengthy reports. I acknowledge that SafetyLit delivers these documents to users in a way that should be improved. There are several significant technical hurdles that must be crossed to make this a reality. We have been working for over a year to arrive at the best solution to all of the issues with these publications.

We are seeking US$5200 in funding to support major revisions to the SafetyLit Public and Administrative systems to improve how books and book sections are handled. From the public side this will allow easy linking from an edited book to each of its chapters and from each of the book's chapters to the book information screen. This will result in improvements to the metadata export formats for users of various personal bibliography management software packages (e.g. EndNote, Mandelley, Papers, Zotero and others including BibTeX format). These improvements will greatly facilitate browsing of edited books on SafetyLit and will save much effort for those wishing to cite books or book chapters in their reports and manuscripts.

This will also include numerous changes to the Administrative side that will facilitate importing metadata into the SafetyLit system and editing the metadata so that it corresponds to appropriate standards. This will be the most significant change to the database structure in 10 years.

These changes will require significant work on the public display screens for books and book chapters, the administration-side screens, and many changes to the structure of the database tables that are the foundation of the SafetyLit system. Interrelationships among books and book chapters; creator types (authors, editors, translators, etc.) will need to be adjusted so that any one person can be credited for any one or more roles; and other structures will need to be added or amended.

I received estimates from three website / database management providers. Each has estimated the effort requirements at 50 to 65 worker hours. The firm with the lowest per hour estimate (and the lowest estimate for the number of required hours) is the one that has been responsible for the SafetyLit database system for more than 10 years.

Please weigh the benefit of these improvements and consider giving generously to make this a reality. If you desire, you can make your donation earmarked (limited) to the book chapter tasks.

If a single donor supports this entire project, we could include a tag line to the bottom of each abstract that acknowledges the source of support. Large donations are better if made by check or bank transfer. That way, donor services (like Network for Good), credit card providers, and funds transfer companies (PayPal) will not take a portion of your donation.

Thank you for the attention and my apologies for this intrusion.
